

Christine Loh is Chief Development Strategist, Institute for the Environment at The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology. She is also Visiting Professor at The Anderson School of Management, UCLA (2018-2022). She serves on the boards of New Forests Pty Ltd, Global Maritime Forum, and CDP Worldwide. She is Advisor to the Hong Kong Science and Technology Park, as well as Senior Advisor to Teneo..

She is well-known for her expertise on environmental and climate change issues, China's sustainability pathway, US-China relations, as well as Hong Kong. A sought-after speaker and moderator, Loh participates in many international events, and she is a published author of many academic and popular works.

Loh is a lawyer by training, a commodities trader by profession, and has extensive policy and political experience having been a legislator and ministerial appointee in the Hong Kong government.

SBS, JP, OBE,
Chevalier de l'Ordre
National du Mérite

CONTACT

 cml@ckwloh.net
cloh@ust.hk

 christine-loh.com

 christineloh

 (852) 9802-8888
